

Environmental Health

Dedicated to the advancement of the environmental health professional

Volume 85, No. 4 November 2022

ABOUT THE COVER

The National Environmental Health Association (NEHA) is pleased to unveil our new brand within the pages of the November 2022 Journal of Environmental Health! The cover shines a spotlight on the new NEHA logo—the cornerstone of our new brand. You will find components of our new brand throughout this issue via new colors and redesigned promotions for our products and services. You can learn about the rebranding process and what it means for our association and the professionals we represent through columns by our leadership on pages 6 and 62. We have also included a special report on page 52 that highlights our new brand and explains what the new logo represents, as well as provides a history of our past logos.
